OFFERS JOHNSON $20,000 FOR FIGHT

Manager of Jim Flynn Is After Battle With Negro Champion.

Salt Lake City, Utah, December 26.—Jack Curley, of Chicago, manager of Jim Flynn, the Pueblo heavyweight, announced today that he would guarantee Jack Johnson $20,000 for his share of the purse, with loss or draw for a finish night with Flynn for the heavyweight championship of the world.

Curley declared he would select Nevada as the battleground, as he insisted that the fight be to a finish, and he did not think it could be staged elsewhere.

Curley expects to be in Chicago next Sunday to confer with Johnson after the Flynn-Capone bout, scheduled here for to-morrow night.

In Chicago, Curley will meet Harry Pollock, promoter of events at Madison Square Garden in New York, and discuss an offer made by Pollock in a telegram to-day. The message to Curley says:

"To match Flynn with Johnson, $25,000 purse. Ten rounds. Will meet you in Chicago."

Curley said to-night that he was not in favor of a ten-round bout.

Johnson might go pretty strong for ten rounds," he surmised. "We prefer twenty rounds or to a finish."

Nothing to Prevent It.

Reno, Nev., December 26.—From a local standpoint there is nothing to prevent the staging of the proposed Flynn-Johnson battle on Nevada soil. The law enacted in 1927 for the benefit of the promoters of the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight is still in force.

COLUMBIA TRACK HAS VERY POOR DAY

Conditions Are Bad, Card Mediocre and Prices Close.

Columbia, S. C., December 26.—Bad track conditions, a mediocre card and close prices laid by the bookmakers did not result in a good day of racing at the Fair Grounds to-day. The King, at 4 to 1, won the feature, the steeplechase. Three favorites won. It was positively announced that the meeting would close Saturday. Summaries:

First race—$200, three-year-olds and up, five and a half furlongs, selling—Hudak's Sister (even, 2 to 1), 1 to 4) first, Hannah Louise (1 to 2) second, Sir Mincemeat (2 to 1) third. Time, 1:14.

Second race—$200, three-year-olds and up, five and a half furlongs, selling—Ossabun (even, 2 to 1), 1 to 4) first, Ben Sand (7 to 10) second, Casque (1 to 2) third. Time, 1:13 2-5.

Third race—$250, steeplechase, handicap, three-year-olds and up, short course—The King (4 to 1, 6 to 5 and out) first, Sam Ball (3 to 5 and out) second, Dr. Heard (7 to 5 and out) third. Time, 4:18 2-5.

Fourth race—$200, three-year-olds and up, six furlongs, selling—Our Nugget (7 to 1, 2 to 1, 1 to 10) first, Emperor William (1 to 3 and out) second, Belle Clem (3 to 2) third. Time, 1:20 3-5.

Fifth race—$200, three-year-olds and up, six furlongs, selling—Warner Griswell (5 to 1, 2 to 1 and 1 to 3) first, J. H. Barr (3 to 5) second, Woodlander (8 to 5) third. Time, 1:20 3-5.

Sixth race—$200, two-year-olds, five furlongs, selling—Deduction (4 to 1, 2 to 1, 1 to 1) first, Lelala (7 to 10) second, Lesbes (5 to 2) third. Time, 1:03 2-5.

MANY NEW MARKS ARE ESTABLISHED

New York, December 26.—New records in many events were established at Madison Square Garden to-night during the first half of the indoor meet of the senior and junior championships of the Amateur Athletic Union, which will be completed to-morrow night.

The new records were as follows:

Throwing the fifty-pound weight for height, 16 feet 3 inches, by Matt McGrath, New York City.

One-mile run (senior)—2:16 1-5, by A. R. Kiviat, Irish-American Athletic Club.

High jump (senior)—Six feet two and seven-eighths inches, by H. C. Lawrence, of the Boston Athletic Association.

300-yard run (senior)—First trial heat, 32 seconds, by J. J. McFar, New York City.

One-mile walk (junior)—6:54 1-5, by P. H. Kaiser, New York Athletic Club.

Two-mile run—9:20 4-5, by George V. Bohag, Irish-American Athletic Club.

RUPTURE IN BRAIN FATAL TO MARVEL

Griffith, Mathematical Wonder, Found Dead in Bed From Apoplexy.

Springfield, Mass., December 26.—Arthur P. Griffith, a famous lightning calculator, known as "The Marvelous Griffith" on the vaudeville stage of Europe and America, was found dead in bed in the Nelson Hotel by E. K. Nadel, his manager, who went to bid him a merry Christmas.

Griffith, who had been hunched at his desk in a local theatre last week and was to have appeared in Polka Theatre at Bridgeport, Conn., yesterday.

Gaining no response to his knocking, Mr. Nadel called Griffith's colored valet, who, looking through the transom, saw his master motionless on the bed. The door was forced and physician called. Medical Examiner Russell said Griffith died of apoplexy during the night.

The medical examiner was not prepared to say that the mathematical gymnastics to which Griffith had subjected his brain weakened the blood vessels there and so caused the hemorrhage—apoplexy.

Puzzled Learned Psychologists.
Griffith, a farmer's son, was a human calculating machine, a puzzle to learned psychologists. Almost as soon as an arithmetical problem was put to him he saw the answer through the maze of figures. He was "discovered" in a barber shop near Elkhart, Ind., four years ago by a Chicago newspaper man, who, hearing of his phenomenal powers of calculation, proposed a theatrical partnership. Griffith, who was then twenty-seven years old and working on a farm for 50 cents a day and his board, accepted the offer. His stage career began in Chicago the next day.

In February, 1919, a score of professors and tutors at Harvard University tried to corner Griffith. Professor Julian C. Coolidge, of the mathematics department invited him there. Professors and instructors threw problems at him, and he tossed back the solutions. They then turned quizzers and asked the professors some easy ones. Like this: "My birthday is April 1. If the next time my birthday comes on Easter Sunday I shall be 26 per cent older than next April, how old am I now?"

And this: "If on that Easter birthday the population of Boston were 50 per cent more than the sum of all the numbers from 1 to 107, to the next prime number above and they should all celebrate my birthday by giving me as many Easter eggs as 41 cents a dozen, what would be the compound interest on the money at 3 per cent from that day until the next time my birthday falls on Easter Sunday?"

It is not recorded that the learned professors have answered yet.

Overstreet—Weeks.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Lynchburg, Va., December 26.—Sunday afternoon, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Weeks, their daughter, Miss Ruth Weeks, was married to Virgil Overstreet, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Victor L. Harris, pastor of the West End Methodist Church. The groom is a farmer in Bedford county, and they will make their home on his farm.

Pertinent Comment

By GUS MALBERT.

Almost anything, in fact everything, might happen. Richmond would never be without baseball because there are too many amateur leaguers playing good baseball. By the way the amateurs last season really put up more consistent baseball than did the leaguers.

While knowing full well the obstacles which the organizers of the proposed league will encounter, and while well knowing the improbability of its stability or success, nevertheless the writer will be glad to welcome their team in Richmond, provided, of course, that good, clean baseball is given. That's the only interest the writer has to serve, and he believes that in serving that interest he is best serving the lovers of the game in Richmond. Regardless of who E. C. Landgraf may be, if he is bringing to Richmond a first-class team, club, or supplying a public demand, if the Virginia League cannot stand on its own bottom it is no fault of the writer, nor of the fans who wish that the Virginia League could furnish a high-grade article. Competition in every line of endeavor always redounds to the benefit of the purchaser, so why not have a little competition in baseball?

A meeting of the football rules committee will be held in New York this week. Many changes are suggested, yet it seems that few will be made. Out of the mass of suggestions that have been made, and out of the vast cry which has gone forth against the rules as they stand, this fact is clearly brought out: It is Harvard and Yale and Princeton who want the changes so radical that a return to the old game will be the practical result. Even Walter Camp, one of the most persistent men interested in the game for a modification of the old game, has been won over to seeking changes.

Just two things need changing in the rules as they stand, aside from clearing up a few ambiguities and making more definite penalties, and these two things are in regard to the forward pass and the kicking. All restrictions should be removed from these plays, that is, if the forward pass is to remain. It would not be a bad idea to eliminate the forward pass, to increase the number of downs, or to decrease the distance gained, would be to the public, but to where we started before the reform.

Changes now should be not toward making possible a recurrence of conditions which existed a few years ago and which made the game almost unintelligible to the laymen, but toward making the game even more open, if possible, and more understandable, for it is to the public that the game must look for its continuance.

As pointed out by many writers, the rules are not nearly so much at fault as are the coaches who insist upon following old lines instead of turning their attack and defense along the lines made possible by the new rules. All of the smaller colleges have taken advantage of the rules and have been quick to grasp the opportunities which made their chances more nearly equal with heavier and older opponents, therefore the smaller colleges have met with a success which seems to have nettled their stronger rivals.

Sam McVey got the decision over Sam Lankford in their Australian bout, though those who saw the fight were not satisfied. Nothing conclusive was done and another fight may be arranged. Arthur Johnson is lying around waiting for something "to turn up," and is willing to take on anybody provided $25,000 is tacked on. Jim Flynn is the man suggested. As a contemporary has said, it wouldn't be a fight, just a massacre, and the white man would be the victim.

Mike Donaldson and George Herbert will pull off their second exhibition next Monday at 8:45 o'clock. This time no invitations will be issued, but only members of the club will be admitted. Three or four fast bouts have been arranged, and Donaldson states that he will put on the gloves for a short go with some worthy opponent. A battle royal will form a part of the program.

Local boxers have declared a truce until after New Year, but on Friday night the Virginians and Alcos, having a postponed game, will roll it off at the Newport. These two teams are fighting for the top and will go at it hammer and tong.

SHIPPING TRUST PROBE IS SOUGHT

Joint Resolution Providing for Investigation Will Be Pushed.

HEARINGS BEGIN JANUARY 15

Evidence Will Be Extended to Railroad Control of Coastwise Commerce.

Washington, D. C., December 26.—Consideration of a joint resolution providing for a special investigation of the "shipping trust" is to be pressed in Congress soon after the holidays. Hearings on a resolution introduced by Representative Humphrey, of Washington, directing the appointment of a special committee to make the inquiry, will begin before the House Rules Committee January 15.

"The committee contemplates a thorough hearing on the resolution," said Chairman Henry to-day.

The Humphrey resolution directs a searching investigation into the methods and practices of various lines of ships, both of the United States and foreign countries, engaged in the United States overseas or foreign commerce. It further directs an investigation of American ships and railroads interested in or controlling the coastwise commerce of the United States as to the methods of these lines in forming conferences, pools or other combinations in violation of the anti-trust law.

Prepared to Resume Work.
Washington, D. C., December 26.—Representative Underwood, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, will return to Washington to-morrow prepared to resume work on the Democratic wool schedule, though the other Democratic members of the committee are not expected to take up active consideration of the problem until the holidays are over. The actual work of writing the bill will not begin for several weeks, as the committee must await the printed report of the tariff board. This bulky document will not come from the printing office before Congress convenes.

Republican members of the Ways and Means Committee, who are working on a bill to be based wholly upon the report of the tariff board, also will continue their deliberations to-morrow.

May Save Millions.
Washington, D. C., December 26.—For the next week President Taft will work on a message to Congress, dealing with economy and efficiency in the government departments. To-day the President received a preliminary report from the Economy and Efficiency Commission, indicating that many millions might be saved each year if other guests, and changes in duplication were avoided and the various bureaus. The full report will be submitted to the President in time to be submitted to Congress next month with a message.

RENO DIVORCEES WILL ATTEND BALL

Gathering of Matrimonial Misfits to Be Most Brilliant Affair of Season.

Reno, Nev., December 26.—This city is to witness what bids fair to be the Christmas holiday season in its history on New Year's night, when many members of the divorce colony will participate in what is known as the divorcees' ball.

This ball is expected to surpass in beauty of decoration, character of supper and attendance of the elite of the colony anything heretofore attempted here. It is to be held in the ball room of the Colonial, the largest and most stylish apartment hotel in the city. The Colonial has long been the temporary home of scores of women here seeking divorce, and the ball is given by the house to its occupants and other guests, among whom will be many of the fellow divorcees from hotels, cottages and other apartment houses. It is to be a well ordered assemblage of high character and to a considerable extent exclusive.

The costumes to be worn will, as upon former similar occasions, represent the wealth and taste of many New York families of prominence. The evergreens and flowers to be used to adorn the reception and ball rooms are to be shipped here from the East.

The ball will be strictly an invitation affair and far different from certain other dancing events which have taken place here, and in which certain women of the colony have been conspicuous and to their discredit.

New York City and State will be generously represented. Among those who are expected to participate are Mrs. Thomas Pearsall Field, Mrs. Eben Hill, Jr., Mrs. Hugh Corby Fox, Mrs. Frank Thompson, Mrs. Dwight Pardee, Cortland Massie, Kelly Williams, Mrs. Ethel Cook, Rochester; Mrs. Jean Liprot, Frank J. Ramos, Alfred Cohn, Jamaica; Mrs. Beatrice V. O'Brien, Mrs. W. H. Wheeler, Mrs. C. Annan, William L. A. D. Delval, Mrs. Herman B. Peters, Sr., Mrs. James J. Gleason, Brooklyn; Mrs. Louise Kibbs, Mrs. Max Plank, Captain E. S. Cox, Mrs. Ulysses Grant Innis, Mrs. Stella Dieps, Mrs. Rose M. Meyers, Mrs. Pauline V. Drake, Eugene B. Batton, Chester Dean, Mrs. M. G. Brownell, Mrs. Caroline Kolling, Mrs. E. B. Sanford, Mrs. G. M. Eames, Mrs. Gra Halley, Mrs. Dickerson Lewis, Mrs. L. Patterson and Mrs. Anna Dickerman.

THROUGH SMOKE TO SAFETY

Theatrical People Rescued From Burning Apartment House.

Philadelphia, December 26.—Twelve persons, many of them members of theatrical companies playing in this city, were rescued through thick smoke to safety to-day when fire broke out in the Barnton Apartment house, in the centre of the city.

Among those rescued in their night clothes were Ralph O'Brien and Roger Davis, of the Siren Company, which opened here last night. The firemen put out the fire after it had caused $50,000 damage and lots of excitement.

ANOTHER EFFORT FOR HARRY THAW

Believed Slayer of Stanford White Soon May Be Freed.

PLANS CAREFULLY LAID

Heard His Wife Will Divorce Him and Wed New York Doctor.

Mattewan, December 26.—From a source the reliability of which cannot be questioned comes an announcement that Harry K. Thaw, the slayer of Stanford White, who has been a patient in the State Hospital for the Criminal Insane here for several years, will be a free man within a few months. The information came from one close to the Thaws and to the hospital authorities, though permission to make public the name of the informant was emphatically denied.

For many months the Thaws have been working for another attempt to effect the liberty of the slayer. Detectives have been in their constant employ, and prominent New York lawyers, among them Clarence J. Shearn, have been in constant touch with Thaw. Representatives of the lawyers have visited the hospital and have had many conferences with Thaw. A person who knows made the statement to-night that Thaw would be released from the hospital within a couple of months.

Plan Decided Upon.
The plan decided upon is to obtain another writ of habeas corpus and demand a trial by jury as to the sanity of the patient.

The case of Mrs. Frances O'Shaughnessy, who was married to Thaw, and who was recently paroled by a New York judge in the custody of her lawyer, Jeremiah T. Mahoney, and Dr. William Mabson, superintendent of Ward's Island State Hospital, will be used to show that Thaw's case is identical with hers and should be treated accordingly.

It was said by the informant that Dr. James V. May, medical superintendent of Mattewan, would be called to testify as to Thaw's sanity, and that Dr. May would state that since he has been watching Thaw he has not noticed any evidence of dangerous insanity. Dr. May has in the past made a statement as to Thaw's condition, and refused. He said he would do so if Thaw ever demanded another hearing, but as a State official he did not think it would be just for him to do so before testifying in court.

Dr. May assumed the position as head of the Mattewan State Hospital last summer, coming here from Binghamton, where he was the superintendent of the Willard State Hospital. He has since been in contact with Thaw, and has been in the hospital building, and the patients can see him from the view of the Hudson, the Taconic Mountains and the picturesque scenery intervening. As at present situated, the yards, where the inmates are forced to exercise in the open air, are punned in by the hospital building, and the patients can see him from the view of the Hudson, the Taconic Mountains and the picturesque scenery intervening. As at present situated, the yards, where the inmates are forced to exercise in the open air, are punned in by the hospital building, and the patients can see him from the view of the Hudson, the Taconic Mountains and the picturesque scenery intervening.

In carrying out this idea shortly after assuming the superintendency of the hospital, Dr. May directed that Lizzie Halliway, who had been in solitary confinement for years, be allowed to leave the hospital and have a grand view of the Hudson, the Taconic Mountains and the picturesque scenery intervening. As at present situated, the yards, where the inmates are forced to exercise in the open air, are punned in by the hospital building, and the patients can see him from the view of the Hudson, the Taconic Mountains and the picturesque scenery intervening.

Has Many Liberties.
Dr. May now allows Thaw the free use of the library, the privilege of playing music, and, for four hours a day, the piano. He also allows other privileges, and an attendant made the statement some days ago that he had seen Thaw in his office and enjoys a cigar there. Dr. May did not deny this some time ago, nor did he deny that Thaw had been given certain privileges. On the contrary, he said he did not believe any patient should be subjected to constant confinement if their case warranted their having a little freedom.

Little freedom, however, has been granted at the hospital are out of doors every day, Dr. May said, working on the farm, and others are taken for walks on the drives, leading through the hospital grounds. Thaw's wife, had been in the hospital, and Dr. May had said, why Thaw should not enjoy the same privileges.

The informant also stated that Evelyn Thaw, Harry Thaw's wife, had stood in the way of his release for some time by alleging that he had threatened to kill her if he was freed. It was stated that she is soon to marry again, and was now planning a divorce. A well-known New York physician is said to be her intended husband.

Mrs. Mary C. Thaw and Evelyn Thaw have, it is also said, made an arrangement by which the latter will not stand in the way of her husband's release. Former District Attorney Jerome stated at Thaw's last hearing that he believed if Thaw remained at Mattewan for a few years there would be a much more healthy condition, which would favor his ultimate release. The information is now given out that Mr. Jerome will in any move for obtaining Thaw's freedom.

Thaw's mother visited him yesterday morning just before going to New York to be a guest at a dinner given for her daughter, the former Countess of Yarmouth. She was very cheerful, and to a friend said she was never happier in her life and that Harry was just as happy. To the young women at the institute she said:

"This is indeed a merry Christmas to me and to all here."

Thaw some days ago informed one of the inmates of his ward, with whom he has been quite friendly, that he was going to be released, and to stay at the hospital, but warned his friend not to repeat the statement to any one. Several attendants who come in close contact with Thaw state that they are willing to testify that they have watched him carefully for a long time and that no evidence of insanity is noticeable.

Thaw now spends a great deal of time studying law, especially cases similar to his own.

DEATH PENALTY MAY BE EXACTED

General Reyes Will Be Tried by Court-Martial for Inciting Rebellion.

Mexico City, December 26.—Death may be the penalty General Bernardo Reyes will pay for his effort to overthrow President Madrazo. The least he can expect in ten years' imprisonment. The Mexican law provides extremes for the crime of inciting rebellion. It is not generally believed that the extreme penalty will be inflicted, but a term in the penitentiary for the venerable prisoner with his seventy-four years doubtless will be the equivalent.

A military court, drawn by lot from those eligible to service, will pass judgment upon him. The court will consist of two generals of division and five brigadiers, with General Alexandre Pazo, chief of Reyes's staff when he was Minister of War under General Diaz, as presiding officer. General Pazo long has been chief magistrate of the military court, and bears an excellent reputation for exact justice.

Although he had retired from the army, General Reyes was entitled under military usage to receive honor from the army as if in active service. On the other hand, as a retired officer he is liable to punishment by a military court for offenses committed against the army. His offense consisted in calling upon the army to rise in rebellion.

Orders were sent early in the day to General Trevino at Monterey to have Reyes brought to the capital at the earliest possible moment. It is expected that he will arrive here in the last of the present week, and that little time will be lost thereafter in placing him on trial.

KNOCKED DOWN BY MAIL WAGON

Accident to Miss Dunford Results in Arrest of Driver, Who Is Bailed.

Just after another young woman had been injured by a piece of wire said to have been trailing from the rear of a small mail delivery wagon, Miss Josephine Dunford, of 519 North Ninth Street, was knocked down at the corner of Ninth and Main at 6:20 o'clock yesterday afternoon and injured.

Policeman Bernstein, of the traffic squad, rushed to her side and picked her up as the wagon passed on. The young girl said that she thought she was not much hurt, and refused the proffer of a carriage or automobile to take her home.

The mail wagon was being driven by John Bentley, colored. As he was in charge of the United States mails, on his way to a railway station, Policeman Bernstein took his name and number, and later swore out a warrant for his arrest, charging him with reckless driving. Bentley was taken to the station, where he was held in the police office. He appeared to be much concerned over the condition of Miss Dunford. A. G. Gilbert, who has a contract for the carrying of the mails, and who employs Bentley, bailed him in the sum of $100.

Mr. Gilbert called at Miss Dunford's home and learned that she had suffered a severe sprain. He was anxious to do all he could to aid her.

The first delivery wagon was passing the corner when a young woman stepped from the pavement on the south side, and started to cross the street. She stepped on a piece of wire and fell to her knees. She picked herself up without aid and hurried on. Almost immediately after Miss Dunford was struck by a heavier mail wagon and knocked down. Policeman Bernstein turned he saw the girl underneath the wagon. It is thought that a wheel passed over her. She was covered with mud, and was much shocked. She refused proffers of assistance, and walked home with an escort.

Frank—Katz.
Charles Frank, of Chicago, and Miss Yeta Katz, of New York, were married last night in the home of the bride's parents, 181 East Grace Street, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Shepperdman. Sam Katz, brother of the bride, acted as best man, and the bride's sister, was maid of honor. The wedding was followed by a supper and dancing, the guests remaining until a late hour.
